CHINESE WITHDRAW

Rumors of Truce Between Warring Nations Appears to Be Verified

PEIPING, May 19.—(UP)—Japanese troops are ready to halt their advance into China proper, the Japanese legation announced today in reporting that Chinese troops had taken up new defense lines extending from Shunyi, 20 miles north of Peiping, through Tungchow, 13 miles to the east, and thence southeastward through Luati toward the sea.

S. Nakayama, chargé d'affaires of the legation, based his announcement on the assumption that Chinese troops would make no attacks on Japanese. If there are further attacks there may be further advances, he said. If there are no more attacks, Japanese troops will continue to hold an area within China proper equivalent to the area of the state of New Jersey, pending assurances that they will not be molested. Eventually they will retire to the Great Wall, he said.

Japanese troops were taking up positions along a line from Miyunshien, won from the Chinese after days of sanguinary fighting, to a location north of Tungchow and southeastward through Tang-Shan toward the sea.

Nakayama said airplane reconnoiters indicated the Chinese withdrawal was orderly, unaccompanied by fighting. The retreat was ap-

EVA TANGUAY GOES UNDER KNIFE TODAY

CHICAGO, May 19.—(UP)—Eva Tanguay, the famous "I Don't Care" girl of yesteryear, today rested in a Chicago hospital recovering from an operation on her right eye for a cataract that almost destroyed her sight.

The operation was performed ten days ago at Michael Reese hospital after the former comedienne ended a six-year fight against failing sight and submitted to an examination by a physician.

Not long ago Miss Tanguay was discovered living in impoverished circumstances on the Pacific coast. She came here so crippled by arthritis she hardly could walk.

Joaquin Santa Cruz, 40, Anaheim, was killed; Mrs. Augustine Huesca, Anaheim; David W. Thompson, 54, and his son, George, 28, were injured. They were brought to Murphy Memorial hospital here.

SOCIALISTS IN PARIS CABINET WARN DALADIER

Vote is Asked to Re-

PARIS, May 19.—(UP)—The Daladier cabinet faced a parliamentary crisis today which multiplied difficulties of deciding whether to make the June 15 war payment due the United States, and the payment that was defaulted last December.

Chamber socialists headed by Leon Blum served notice on Premier Edouard Daladier that they would withdraw support if asked to vote on a senate project to re-five per cent. Daladier was warn-

TOM MOONEY MOVED FROM STATE PRISON

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(UP)—Tom Mooney awaited today the new murder trial which he hopes will clear the way for a pardon from his conviction in the 1916 Preparedness day bombing.

Temporarily released from San Quentin, Mooney was returned yesterday to the same county jail which held him years ago when a jury sentenced him to death. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

His trial on the long-dormant untried murder indictment is scheduled to start Monday.

"I hope they will give me a full and fair trial, and bring in every piece of evidence possible against me," he said.

BACHELOR'S GRILL OPENED TO WOMEN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(UP)—The last place in San Francisco that had been kept sacred to the male has succumbed to the era of mannish attire and equal rights and, beginning Saturday, will permit women to enter the sanctuary.

The place is Herbert's Bachelor grill—the only respectable restaurant in town where men could eat without trying to be polite in front of disdainfully arched eyebrows; where they could roll dice for the checks without shocking somebody at the next table; where they could talk without watching their language and keeping voices moderated. Never has a woman been permitted there.

Stabilizing Effective On 28th Of May

Plans for Handling Loose
Fruit Sales Announced
by Fruit Exchange

PLANS FOR handling loose fruit sales under the recently signed Valencia stabilization agreement were announced today from the office of the Orange County Fruit Exchange. The plan goes into effect May 28.

The committee in charge has decided to establish joint facilities in Los Angeles for handling the loose fruit, with W. C. Frackleton as manager.

Features of the agreement are:
1—The prescribed area established for the sale of loose fruit shall be the eight counties south of the Tehachapis.

2—All fruit sold in the area prescribed by the local regulation
committee, or under its control, shall be shipped through, or controlled by, the management of the central distributing plant in Los Angeles.

3—All packing house sales be eliminated except those authorized by the manager of the central distributing plant.

4—All place-pack, market-pack,
or naked-pack fruit is to be eliminated in the area set up by the local regulation committee.

5—All loose fruit sold in or by the distributing plant shall be sold in plain, standard, orange shipping boxes without prints or labels, or covers, or any identifying marks except the code number. Fruit sold with or without the boxes at the option of the shipper.

6—A deduction from sale proceeds on a per box basis shall be made to cover the expenses of all loose fruit sold in the area prescribed by the local regulation
committee.

7—Arrangements shall be made within each district for the prompt
pick-up of unpacked fruit not sold under the established prorate. Such fruit shall be delivered to approved by-products plants under proper safeguards or turned over to charitable and relief organizations under proper safeguards and the balance eliminated in concentration areas selected by the local regulation committee under suitable precautions to remove with certainty from all channels of trade.

Members of the committee appointed to handle the work are
W. E. Spencer, Whittier, chairman;
William Hartley, R. E. Gross, H.
W. Pierce, C. E. Perry, Harold Kelly and A. C. Barnes, all packing house managers.

The stabilization agreement was signed by 94 per cent of the shipping interests of Southern California.

SENATOR EDWARDS' MEASURE IS VETOED

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 19.—(UP)—Declaring the measure was too far reaching in scope and might seriously affect everything in the state, Governor

Rolph last night vetoed Senate bill 504, which would have granted additional powers to county supervisors.

The measure, introduced by Sen. Nelson T. Edwards, Orange,
would have given supervisors
complete control of all tidelands
and submerged lands in their respective counties, the governor
said, and might be construed as permitting drilling for oil on such lands.

DISABLED VETERANS TALK LEGISLATION

LONG BEACH, May 19.—(UP)—Adopted and proposed congressional legislation affecting veterans was under consideration today by 500 ex-service men and women here for the state convention of the disabled American veterans.

The convention had before it invitations to hold the 1934 convention in Santa Cruz or Sacramento.
Other business for the day including reading of a number of reports, with election and installation of officers scheduled for tomorrow.

BABE BORN AFTER MOTHER'S DEATH IS KEPT ALIVE WHEN FATHER'S BLOOD TRANSFUSED

NASHUA, N. H., May 19.—(UP)—Seeking to keep alive his infant daughter—born 15 minutes after her mother's death—Robert Scully, 32, woodworker, underwent a blood transfusion operation at St. Joseph's hospital today.

Mrs. Scully, 26, died in an ambulance on her way to the hospital yesterday. At the hospital, Dr. Roland Joyce operated immediately in the possibility the baby might be alive.

At first the infant breathed only three times a minute. Firemen came with an inhalator. After three hours' work, the baby's respiration had increased to 49.

Early today one ounce of the father's blood was transfused to the infant. Doctors said other transfusions might be necessary,
but reported:

"The baby is better today. Its breathing is not quite normal
but is gradually improving.
Barring complications the child should live."

HOOVER, MILLS STABILIZATION PLAN TO OPEN OF CURRENCIES FAMOUS MINE IS DISCUSSED

Purchase of Railroad by Former Secretary Leads to Latest Rumor

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., May 19.—(UP)—Former President Hoover may join his former cabinet officer, Oden L. Mills, in a project to revive the famous Comstock lode, the richest vein of mineral wealth ever discovered, it was reported here today.

Rumors, originating when the two visited the site April 2, gained momentum last week when Mills purchased controlling interest in the Virginia & Truckee railroad which for years has been operating at a loss.

The tracks of the old railroad which Mills' grandfather built after the Civil War, cross property of the old Crown Point mine at Gold Hill. A rich gold-silver strike, conservatively estimated at $4,000, 000, was made at this mine recently but the discovery was shrouded in the utmost secrecy.

Franklin Leonard of New York, part owner, today was reported to be in San Francisco, negotiating with railroad directors about rerouting the tracks so that development plans could proceed. Leonard has made it clear the mine is not for sale. Rumors held that Mills may join forces with

Mills and possibly Mr. Hoover for large scale developments.

Arrangements shall be made
within each district for the prompt
pick-up of unpacked fruit not sold
under the established prorate. Such
fruit shall be delivered to approved

CUBAN GOVERNMENT TAKES PRECAUTIONS

HAVANA, May 19.—(UP)—The government took precautions against uprisings in Havana today as reports from the eastern provinces, evading military censorship, told of desultory clashes between soldiers and roving bands of revolutionists.

Police Chief Alciante met members of the secret service after conferring with President Bernardo Machado and police inspectors.

Some 2000 troops remained in Havana as new contingents moved out to quell uprisings in Santa Clara and Camaguey provinces.

Wild rumors of revolutionary activity circulated through Havana and one report said that Major Arsenio Ortiz, ruthless suppres-
sor of revolutions, had inaugurated a "hanging campaign" to end revolts in the rural districts.

The measure, introduced by Sen. Nelson T. Edwards, Orange,
would have given supervisors
complete control of all tidelands
and submerged lands in their respective counties, the governor
said, and might be construed as permitting drilling for oil on such
lands.

YOUTHFUL LEADER OF GANG SENTENCED

HARRY MURCH, boy gang leader, was sentenced to 20 years to life imprisonment today for the murder of 12-year-old William Bender, whom he bound, gagged, stabbed and left in an abandoned house.

Murch was convicted last week,
an important piece of evidence against him being his own statement made to detectives telling of the manner in which the Bender boy was killed.

Murch had a grudge against the boy because, he charged, William and his father told stories about Murch. Luring the Bender boy to an empty house on the pretense that he wanted to re-hear the holdup of a peanut man, Murch persuaded Bender to submit to binding and gagging.

Then, with Bender mute, it was charged, Murch stabbed him.

Sales Tax Is Proposed By Pres. Green

Increase in Gasoline Tax
Also Urged to Raise
Necessary Funds

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(UP)—Organized labor, through President Green of the American Federation of Labor, submitted to Congress today its proposals for financing the administration's public works program.

Green proposed a modified form of sales tax, increases in income taxes, and a three-fourth cent additional gasoline tax to raise the $220,000,000 revenues necessary.

The combined new taxes, Green told the House Ways and Means Committee in a speech supporting the public works-industry control bill, would be acceptable to labor.

He proposed:

1—Normal income tax rates be increased from four to six per cent in the lower quotas and from eight to ten per cent in the higher quotas.

2—An additional tax of three-fourths of one cent on gasoline.
The present federal tax is one cent
a gallon.

3—A modified form of sales tax with certain exceptions such as foodstuffs and medicine.

Green before submitting the proposals, estimated that 6,000,000 unemployed would be returned to work under the "reemployment" bill.

EXTENT OF INJURIES
ARE UNDETERMINED

The extent of serious injuries received Wednesday evening by Donald Sutherland, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sutherland of Villa Park Heights, will not be known until X-ray pictures have been taken, and complete diagnosis is made, according to a report issued at St. Joseph's hospital, where he is confined. He spent a restful night, it is reported.

The boy was injured when the bicycle on which he was riding collided with an automobile driven by R. L. Martin of 266 East Wilhelmina street, Anaheim. According to Martin's report, he was driving west on Santiago boulevard at Villa Park, when the boy on bicycle ran into his car at an intersection.

If the one-half cent direct to the city without any strings to it had passed, the city of Santa Ana would have received some $20,000 to $25,000 for this half fiscal year and the city council could have used that on the maintenance of all our streets (the same as the county does with the one cent to the county) and could have effected a tax reduction this fiscal year on street maintenance.

"I will say this for Mr. Edwards, that as long as the bill adding mileage went through, he certainly did a good job in obtaining a large mileage for Orange county."

Robert L. Davidson, 21, and Ruby Gay Dickerson, 20, both of Garden Grove, have applied for a marriage license in Riverside.

Building Inspector Sam Pribble has issued a building permit to Jasper Farney, contractor to erect a seven room, story and a half house for J. B. Walden at 4428 Louise street. The house will cost $4000.

WATER HEATER STOLEN

Theft of an automatic water heater valued at $80 was reported to police today by A. M. Blanding, 1348 South Main street, from a house he owns at 1318 South Van Ness street. During the past two weeks, according to the complaint, a burglar cut the screen on the back porch of the house and removed the heater.

S. A. PLAYERS GET REPORTS ON TOURNAMENT

Appointment of a nominating committee for election of officers for the ensuing year, discussion of play activities for the next season, and acceptance of the financial report covering expenditures in connection with the staging of the Southern California one-act tournament held last month, were among matters taken up at the regular monthly board meeting of the Santa Ana Community Players held last night at the residence of Sam Hurwitz, 1620 North Broadway. William H. Spurgeon Jr., president of the organization, presided over the meeting.

Frank Lansdown, manager of the tournament, reported that total expenditures of the event, this year were reduced to $325, as compared to $500 in previous years, which saving became possible by the fact that members of the various casts and their directors, this year were housed and entertained in private homes. In addition to awarding the Emma G. Otis cup and the Carl G. Strock, the organization awarded cash prizes which were generously donated by Mrs. Charles A. Riggs, which circumstances contributed to reducing the cost of the tournament.

The League of California Municipalities felt that the cities were entitled to one-half cent direct allocation of the gas tax in view of the fact that 40 per cent of the gasoline consumed is actually used on city streets. In the past the cities of the state have received a very small amount of money except in Los Angeles county where the board of supervisors have contributed generously to the incorporated cities.

Mr. Terry E. Stephenson, Sam Hurwitz and Mrs. Robert Horn were named to the nominating committee, which will present its recommendations at the annual meeting to be held at the Barn on Thursday evening, June 1.

Mrs. Gladys S. Shafer, in charge of the property department, reported that there has been a generous response for donation of period costumes, which are now being kept in a room in the Spurgeon building, placed at the disposal of the organization free of charge.

President's Wife To Conduct Forum For U. S. Women

Miss Gertrude B. Lane, editor of the Woman's Home Companion, announced today that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will edit a department in the Woman's Home Companion, known as Mrs. Roosevelt's page, beginning with the August issue. The department will be a readers' forum, in which Mrs. Roosevelt will endeavor to discuss the problems which are uppermost in the minds of American women, as indicated in her day-to-day correspondence. Miss Lane's announcement says:

POSITION STATE

"A great many holders of trust deeds and mortgages are taking advantage of the lifting of the first mortgage moratorium, and the provisions of the new moratorium, and are proceeding in their foreclosures and starting to make sales.

The request for cooperation of the Bar association was made by Thomas McFadden, president of that organization, in a letter written at the request of B. F. Tarver, association representative on the committee.

In announcing the request that had been made to the association Crookshank said:

"Through the pages of this department, Mrs. Roosevelt actually becomes the personal advisor of American women everywhere. She will invite them as much as they wish, to write her. She knows, from personal contact, that many women have problems which they would like to discuss with some friend, and yet it is hard for them to find exactly the friend they would like to talk to. Often, in fact, it is easier for them to write to some one they do not expect to see.

"I have been especially impressed with the sincerity and modesty in which Mrs. Roosevelt approaches this new responsibility."

"Of that 150 miles in the county, part is new construction. Therefore, in the present setup, the county is not being relieved of 200 miles of maintenance. It is true that the state will build more mileage in roads in Orange county eventually but remember this, while the state highway commission is building these new roads, it is largely out of gas tax money contributed by the residents of incorporated cities, which gas tax money under present conditions could be put to better use in reducing taxes.

"Construction of many miles of new roads will not relieve the burden of the taxpayer, which was the object of the plan sponsored by the League, but in fact will increase the burden because there will be more miles of roads to maintain. The city council will be unable this next fiscal year to take into consideration in making the budget the fact that the city will receive one quarter cent to be spent by the state highway commission.

"There will be available to Santa Ana about $9000 this next fiscal year, in view of the fact that the fiscal year will be half over before the bill goes into effect. The city cannot plan on the aid to be received for the reason that the state highway commission might spend or require the city to spend this money on work that the city would not do under direct taxation.

"If the one-half cent direct to the city without any strings to it had passed, the city of Santa Ana would have received some $20,000 to $25,000 for this half fiscal year and the city council could have used that on the maintenance of all our streets (the same as the county does with the one cent to the county) and could have effected a tax reduction this fiscal year on street maintenance.

"I will say this for Mr. Edwards, that as long as the bill adding mileage went through, he certainly did a good job in obtaining a large mileage for Orange county."

Handle 18 Cases

During the period of activity of the taxation and debt relief committee some 18 cases were before the members for action. In many instances delays were obtained through various methods and the committee feels that its efforts have been successful in allaying any concerted radical movement against foreclosures, according to a report submitted last night by Crookshank and R. D. Flaherty, secretary.

The committee now is expecting to put most of its effort into securing farm loans as needed in Orange county from federal sources.

Credit for assistance in its work is given in the report to Frank Warner, 26, Sam Stanley and Ben Tarver.

MEMORIAL DAY EXCURSIONS

On account of Memorial Day the Union Pacific will run another of its famous "Dollar Day" excursions making very low round trip fares to points in Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. and was said to owe the city $357 in back licenses, having paid no license since April 1, 1930. The matter of collecting the back licenses was not under consideration in the trial, which was a criminal action. If the city council decides to collect the back licenses, it will be necessary to bring civil suit, according to City Attorney Clyde Downing who successfully prosecuted the case. It is believed that the city council may take some such action Monday night.

A jury of six men and six women found C. H. Eckles, operator of the Santa Ana Bus Lines, guilty of a charge of violating a city ordinance by operating busses without a license yesterday afternoon in Judge J. G. Mitchell's police court. The jury was out for about two hours debating the verdict. When the verdict of guilty was returned, Judge Mitchell fined Eckles $50, which he paid.

Eckles was accused of operating busses without a city license.

RELIEF WORK TO CONTINUE. CURRY BELIEF

Returning yesterday from Sacramento where he had been attending a conference of welfare directors, County Welfare Director B. V. Curry said this morning that while no positive assurance has been given, everyone in Sacramento is of the opinion that federal relief will be continued for work relief in Orange county.

Continuance of work relief will be under a new committee to be set up under the recently adopted Wagner bill making $500,000,000 available for work relief. The program launched several months ago under the Reconstruction Finance corporation, will come to an end May 30.

Curry said that the machinery for administration of funds under the Wagner bill has not been set up and the national director of the fund has not been appointed. This formality is but a matter of days.

He said that there probably will be a few days delay in placing men at work in June but that every indication points to the probability of work relief in this county being continued. The delay will be created, he indicated through procedure necessary to launch the new program.

Curry said that everyone in Sacramento, connected with administration of R. F. C. funds feels that work relief projects have been launched and must be carried through. This feeling, he said, is a reflection of the same opinion in Washington, D. C., and the indication at present is that there will be $96,220 available for work relief in this county during June. That is the same amount that was made available for use here during May.

SIX SEEK POST AS LEADER OF J. C. STUDENTS

Another close election was being predicted at Santa Ana Junior college today, with the signing of 10 petitions for the associating student nominations to be held in assembly next Tuesday. Six of the petitions have been taken out for the presidency, sought by Robert MacFarlane, George Farquhar, Bruce Handy, Earl Homan, George Lake and Miner Whitford. Every indication points to a race similar to that of last semester when Duncan Harrelson, now serving as president, was placed in office by a margin on one vote over Whitford, social commissioner who will be in the coming race.

Farquhar, Handy, Homan and Lake have been active in Don athletics, while MacFarlane and Whitford have devoted their time to other student activities. MacFarlane was chairman of the junior college's annual Fiesta of last week.

Jack Havens, member of the Brotherhood of Bachelors, and William McDaniel, member of the Buccaneers and regular catcher on the college baseball team, will vie for the vice-presidency. Petitions have been taken out for the Misses Leora Hatch and Dorothy Tedford for secretary.

JURY FINDS 1 INNOCENT: 2 HELD GUILTY

Deliberating for four hours yesterday evening a jury in department two, superior court, exonerated Tony Perry of charges of conspiring to steal a quantity of iron pipe and found James and Harry Miller guilty of the offense. Clemency was recommended for the Miller brothers.

Superior Judge James L. Allen, before whom the case was tried, ordered Perry released from custody and set Tuesday morning as the time for pronouncement of judgment of the Miller brothers.

Perry and the two Millers were accused of conspiring to steal a quantity of pipe valued at approximately $400 from the yards of the S. R. Bowen company at Huntington Beach. According to testimony introduced at their trial, Perry, a truck driver and his helpers were stopped while loading the pipe on a truck and taken into custody.

The truck driver and his helpers testified that they had been ordered by the company for which they worked to accompany Perry to Huntington Beach and load the pipe. The truck, they testified, was rented in the name of "Anderson." Who Anderson was never was explained.

OFFICERS STOP RUNAWAY BRIDE

The romance of a 15-year-old Mexican girl, Consuelo Matrada, of Los Angeles, was abruptly halted this morning by Undersheriff Charles W. Riddle when he stopped her from marrying her sweetheart, Jesus Rodriguez, 25, also of Los Angeles.

On May 8 the young girl failed to report to school in Los Angeles and the matter was reported to police. On May 12 her parents received a letter from her, stating that she was going to get married and not to look for her.

Notified of her plan, sheriff's officers here had a watch kept for her at the marriage license bureau.

ABSENT VOTER BALLOT QUERY PUZZLES CLERK

entitled to an absent voter ballot on the city proposition. The county clerk must give the voter the same ballot that is being voted in the precinct in which the voter is registered. In the city all ballots will contain both city and state propositions and if Backs scratches the city proposition off the absent voter ballot he has violated the law in marking a ballot for someone other than himself, he says.

He has taken the problem up with Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton and has been advised to request a special ruling from the state attorney-general.

Forty-four girls are enrolled in the institution, which provides studies beginning with the sixth grade and continuing on through high school, Mrs. Welch reported.

Mrs. C. W. Hollister reported on the activities of her son, Ezra Hollister, a missionary in Wei Hsien, in the Shantung province, China. Devotions were given by Mrs. F. M. Gulick.

Mrs. Jennie Ahlman gave the financial report, reminding members that quarterly Missionary society dues are collectable in June.

Backs is in a quandary as to what to do since the supervisors granted the city of Santa Ana permission to include its proposition on the state ballot for June 27. Voters who will be away from home on election day and those who are unable, through illness to visit the precinct polling place are entitled to an absent voter ballot on the state propositions, and the demand probably will be heavy.

SLOT MACHINES AT BEACH CITY ARE REMOVED

Continuing a drive to keep slot machines out of Orange county, machines reported to have been operating in Seal Beach had all been removed today, it was announced from the sheriff's office.

Sheriff's officers visited Seal Beach today to learn if slot machines ordered out of the city by Sheriff Logan Jackson had been removed. It was learned that they had been taken away quietly after the order had been issued.

The removal of the slot machines came immediately following the issuance of a warning from Sheriff Jackson that if the machines were not removed they would be confiscated and the owners arrested.

A drive to rid Orange county of slot machines was started more than a year ago when Congressman Sam Collins, then district attorney, ruled that they were illegal.

WORLD AFFAIRS GROUP HEARS PROF. TOPPER

Inability on the part of L. Louis Beeman, president, and Miss Stella Mueller, secretary, of the Santa Ana Council of International Relations, to serve in their respective capacities for another year, last night at the annual meeting held in the chapel of the First Methodist church forced a reconsideration of a nomination report submitted by J. F. Burke, chairman of the nomination committee. Because of this fact, the election of officers and members to the executive committee was postponed to the next regular meeting.

The following were recommended to places on the executive committee: Clarence Gustin, Rev. S. Edgar, Miss Nancy Elder, James Anderson and Mrs. Mary B. King.

President Beeman, who is a member of the faculty of the junior college, stated that because of increasing duties in other lines of activities, it would be absolutely impossible for him to resume the leadership of the council's activities. A similar explanation was offered by Miss Mueller, a teacher in the city schools, who also declined re-election with regrets.

The report of the nominating committee calling for re-election of the present officers was submitted by Miss Vanche Etoile Plum, in the absence of Burke, who was out of the city.

The business session was followed by an interesting address by Professor W. F. Topper, lecturer on law and international relations at Whittier College, and extensive traveler, who in an entertaining manner described the habits, customs and characteristics of the people who live between the Panama Canal and the Rio Grande.

The speaker prefaced his address with the statement that aside from considerations of maintaining peace and good will among the nations, the necessity of effecting economic recovery through expansion of trade, should impel Americans to cultivate the good will of

SWALLOWS BACK TO BUILD NESTS ON H. S. BUILDINGS

Barn Swallows—hundreds of them, have returned from warmer climates to again make their homes in the eaves of the various buildings of the Santa Ana High school and Junior college plant at Walnut and Ross streets.

Each spring these feathered flyers put in their appearance in Poly high school and for a short time the students are apt to pay more attention to nest building than lessons.

Usually the birds arrive earlier but due to late rains and prolonged cool weather they correspondingly delayed their return.

The swallows are already hard at work on their mud and grass houses which they assemble in precarious spots under the eaves of the buildings. However, they are not confining their nest building to the high school alone. The courthouse and the various churches and other schools about town will soon be harboring their share of the bird homes. The birds are not to be easily frightened off and in spite of the repeated destruction of their nests they return again and again to build in the same spot.

Not only were the students glad to welcome their feathered friends back, but the teachers also, because it is just another school year, and that students and teachers alike will be free to do as they please for a while, just like the swallows.

their neighbors south of the Rio Grande.

"Get acquainted with your national neighbors and you might learn to like them" the speaker advised the audience, deplored the tendency on the part of Americans to look down upon the inhabitants of Spanish American countries. "As a nation we have acquired a superiority complex which might be a good thing in itself, but which we should leave at home when visiting foreign countries," he said.

New Beach Camp Assured As Council Signs Lease

NEW BUILDING LAW ADOPTED BY L. B. BOARD

LAGUNA BEACH. May 19.—Emergency license legislation was passed by the Laguna Beach city council Wednesday night, following the presentation of a petition signed by 177 business and professional men and women and contractors and workers of the city.

All persons, firms or corporations that have been operating from a fixed place of business, for at least 90 days, will pay the regular yearly license fee of $15. All other general contractors not coming within this classification must pay $100 license fee and sub-contractors, $50.

A resolution adopted at the same time provides that if any contractor or sub-contractor desires to employ any person who has not lived in Laguna Beach or within five miles of its borders for a period of at least 30 days he may do so by first obtaining a permit from the building inspector to make such employment upon payment of a fee of $25 for each such employee.

The legislation was the result of a meeting of contractors and workers called by Charles H. Clark and B. Clyde Mackay. Stories were told of discrimination against both contractors and artisans in Long Beach, Santa Ana and other places.

The petition containing the draft of a proposed ordinance was submitted by the meeting to City Attorney Alburn G. Harvey, who drafted the resolution and amending ordinance for presentation to the council.

Richard Malone was appointed chief lifeguard and Edward Hobart, Bruce Handy and Valmer Cochran will serve under him. They will go on regular duty Saturday, June 17, and a fifth lifeguard will be employed from July 3 to Labor day. Two guards will be station on the central beach, one at Woods Cove, one the beach below the Hotel Del Camino, and the fifth will be stationed at Divers Cove.

Word was received from S. V. Cortelyou, division engineer of the highway commission, that Laguna Beach will be allowed $121,20 out of the state's earthquake relief fund of $50,000.

The city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance repealing one requiring electrical contractors to give a bond. Mr. Harvey announced that the suit of Anna M. Curtis for $20,000 damages because of injuries sustained in an auto accident had been dismissed in superior court. He was ordered to take an appeal from judgement in the superior court in several actions decided against the city in condemnation suit in connection with the Glenneyre street acquisition and improvement district, proceedings for which were brought under the Mattoon act.

FOUR OCEANVIEW TEACHERS RESIGN

OCEANVIEW, May 19.—Prof. R. L. Shostag, pioneer teacher of the district, having resigned from his position as supervisor of the Oceanview school, the trustees at a meeting held Tuesday evening employed J. R. Peterson, who comes from Adelanto, where he was principal of schools.

Three other teachers of the school have resigned. Mrs. Reba Tracy, Miss Carmen Domon and Miss Dora Mulvane. Mrs. Tracy is concluding her teaching career. Miss Mulvane goes to San Bernardino, her home city, to teach and the plans of Miss Domon are not known.

A maximum and minimum wage for teachers has been devised upon for the coming term by the board but contracts will be given on a sliding scale which will allow of the school keeping within its budget on expenses for the term.

Seeks Tile Roof For San Clemente Water Reservoir

SAN CLEMENTE, May 19.—Demand that the city of San Clemente place a tile roof on the new water reservoir is contained in a letter written by Ole Hanson, founder of the city, to the city council.

Hanson in the letter calls attention to violation of a city ordinance requiring tile roofs for all structures. Furthermore, no building permit was taken out and the architectural board was not consulted, he claims.

In his communication, Hanson states: "During a seven-year period to keep the town clean of all unsightly structures, we have all co-operated this far and I do not feel that any property owner in San Clemente should be asked to put a tile roof on his house unless the city obeys its own laws."

A Girl's Periodic Pains

GIRLS who are developing into womanhood and women in middle life—in fact, women of all ages, should take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to smooth their way. Also for those suffering from weakness of heart and for those suffering from attacks of headache and nervousness. Mrs. Lois Gartinger of 215A-11th St., Riverside, says: "When I was attending school I would develop nose bleed and many days due to periods of time I would be so weak I would blot, followed by severe pains so terrible I could not describe them. My mother urged me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I am now pain-free and I had no more suffering."

WASHINGTON

PEACE

Mr. Roosevelt did not leap into world peace leadership. He was spurred to it.

Congress and most people here were amazed by the suddenness of the step. They were not in on the confidential dispatches Mr. Roosevelt had been receiving from abroad.

These dispatches left no doubt in the president's mind that a certain Mr. Hitler was out to wreck both the Geneva Disarmament and the London Economic conferences. They disclosed furthermore that a communist revolution was being secretly organized in Germany. Civil war within thirty days there was a possibility.

The time had unmistakably come for Mr. Roosevelt to strike or toss his international program out of the window.

However, one said as he wiped the tears from his eyes leaving the room:

"If I had been an economist, I would have figured out that the thing to do would be to move to a less expensive hotel."

There were several reasons. There was then time for Mr. Hitler to change his mind about blowing up Europe. Also the situation was so black it called for soft words.

The biggest inside reason was Russia. Again the Reds held the key to the situation. Russian-German trade is one of the most important factors in European economics. Success at London would not be worth a tittle unless Russia was in on it. With an ally in Moscow, the world could circumvent the ill-tempered Mr. Hitler.

That was the reason you saw the Roosevelt note addressed to Moscow.

Much was made of the fact that the note to Moscow was technical diplomatic recognition of the Reds. That may have fooled some people but not the Reds.

They realized that intent is everything in recognition. A technical recognition is not worth two cents. It is only a legal technicality and there are no international courts to enforce it. What is important is the establishment of usual diplomatic intercourse. That requires the appointment of diplomatic representatives.

It will come later, but not by sending world notes addressed to Moscow.

One very prominent official can see no silver lining in the international clouds. He says the problems are "colossal". Others have been pepped up considerably. One is Secy. Hull. He believes public psychology may be aroused sufficiently to overcome nationalistic objections. As usual the truth probably lies somewhere between the two extreme views.

A disinterested person would probably say some beneficial agreements will come out of London and so did Levin. In return

Levin dealt very fairly with the White House.

Howe found the Right Wingers in the army felt hurt because he was playing with the Left Wing. They thought they were being socially snubbed. It was they and not the radicals who caused the trouble.

ECONOMICS

Do not be too hard on Mr. Roosevelt's leading economist, Prof. Moley, for writing syndicated newspaper articles on the side.

Hotel bills drove him to it.

He called the newsmen in his office one day this week and explained the situation to them. He asked their mercy, hinting that it was all a leading economist could do these days to make both ends meet. They too have had hotel bills so a cameraderie of mutual misery was immediately established.

However, one said as he wiped the tears from his eyes leaving the room:

"If I had been an economist, I would have figured out that the thing to do would be to move to a less expensive hotel."

State Secretary Hull was the only one who could not see the key to his in assistant joining the literati. He was silent and somewhat morose about it.

The understanding is that Moley will write nothing that will be embarrassing to the administration. That also goes for the other officials and members of the president's family writing for magazines. The latest addition is Mrs. Hull on the regular staff of Liberty.

Some persons around the state department who could not be called friends of Prof. Moley looked up the law about government officials taking outside employment.

They found nothing for their trouble except a regulation stating no government official could take outside pay for the same work he did for the government.

That clearly was not a hindrance to Moley's literary ambitions.

CONFERENCE

The government's expert advisers disagreed privately about the prospects for the London conference as a result of Mr. Roosevelt's new move.

One very prominent official can see no silver lining in the international clouds. He says the problems are "colossal". Others have been pepped up considerably. One is Secy. Hull. He believes public psychology may be aroused sufficiently to overcome nationalistic objections.

As usual the truth probably lies somewhere between the two extreme views.

A disinterested person would probably say some beneficial agreements will come out of London.

don but not enough to end the depression and revolutionize society.

NOTES

State Secretary Hull was the inspiration for Mr. Roosevelt's world peace message. He had been playing with the idea for four months when the time came suddenly when he was ready. It was not a Moley job as some suspected. . . . A Republican senator told all his friends the president got the idea from the book and moving picture "Gabriel Over the White House". . . . Actually there was no analogy whatever between the picture and the president's move. . . . On the screen a president suffering from cerebral disorder goes honest and demands payment of war debts threatening to build a fleet twice as big. . . . Prof. Moley is still teaching his class each Thursday at Columbia University in New York. . . . The best drawing rooms are hearing the place of Miss Perkins will shortly find a place for Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the late president. . . . If she does not Miss Wilson will be appointed to some other government post elsewhere.

CLUB

If the New York banks get too fresh the government has a powerful club to cool their zest. The Internal Revenue office has been doing quiet but intensive rechecking of income tax returns for the past month. Threats of prosecution a la Mitchell will make quite a few big fellows think twice before they speak out of turn.

INCOME TAX

A prominent movie magnate has decided to take an Oriental cruise. It is reported on the inside that he had no wish to become a second Mitchell. Further exports of wealthy citizens will probably be in order—if their passports work.

HARRIMAN

There are whispers from reliable sources that the government uniformly encouraged those suits against the clearing house banks by Harriman depositors. If the suits can be made to stick the treasury will be in a position to carry out their promise. If not, the treasury will know where it stands without the embarrassment of losing in the courts.

CREDIT

One New York bank recently decided an experiment to feel out credit demand. It wrote to all its customers with good credit rating and practically invited them to help themselves at the loan window. The customers were flattened but over 90 per cent of them said they had no reason to borrow.

The bank cites this as an illustration why credit expansion won't work. But other experts believe the lure of easy credit will do its stuff once borrowers get used to the idea.

RAILS

The railway car loadings figure to be published tomorrow will be better than the corresponding week in 1932 for the first time this year. What's more, it is likely to be a great deal better. New York attributes it largely to authentic business improvement.

Norfolk & Western is considering a stock dividend in addition to an extra cash dividend—offering rights to present holders. The idea would be to replace senior capital with common stock.

GERMANY

There is strong private word here of a possibility that Germany will provide for normal banking facilities throughout the country if it is to be effective.

Meanwhile the inner feud between New York and out-of-town banks flares hotter. It is understood here that Chicago banks favor deposit insurance and are using their influence throughout the Mississippi valley to line up the smaller banks on that side of the fence against New York. They stand to lose as much proportionately as the New York institutions in reserves tied up for insurance and deposits transferred to the federal reserve but take the larger view that full restoration of popular confidence demands some such step.

deliberate bankruptcy. There may even be an experiment under which the Germans will attempt to dispense with currency altogether.

2 WOMEN HURT AS AUTO DEMOLISHED

SEAL BEACH, May 19.—Mrs. John Miller, of 1725 West Adams street, Los Angeles, suffered possible internal injuries, severe bruises, and numerous cuts about the body when her car collided with a truck on the Coast highway in East Seal Beach at 5:30 p. m., Wednesday. Mrs. Miller's companion, Mrs. Janet Beesley, 2033 East Florence avenue, Los Angeles, escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

According to a statement made by Mrs. Miller at the Community hospital in Long Beach, where she was taken after the accident, the brakes on her car locked as she was overtaking another machine, throwing her car directly in the path of the oncoming truck. The driver of the truck, John W. Goodart, 1335 East Sixty-fifth street, Long Beach, stated that he was unable to swerve out of the way of the coupe. The small car struck the heavily loaded truck with such force that the truck was knocked off the road, while the coupe was thrown backward some hundred feet from where the collision occurred.

Mrs. Miller had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Willah V. Helbush of the Meadow Lark Golf Links. The coupe was demolished.

Mrs. Arthur Murdy Birthday Honoree

Plans for a picnic to Irvine park Saturday were made. Each girl will take her own lunch and private cars will transport the 28 Scout members and their chaperones to the park.

Another picnic at Anaheim park is planned, this to be held after the close of school in June, when they will entertain another Girl Scouts troop.

Mrs. Pearl Hell, Scout leader, Mrs. Ned Clinton, a member of the Scouts committee, assisted the girls in honoring Mrs. Murdy, refreshments of punch and home-made cookies being served.

SODOM DESTROYED

By the Same Enemy that Menaces Our Factories

The destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah was caused by a dust explosion, according to science's new theory. This sketch, showing Lot's wife at the moment she took her fatal backward glance, was drawn by Artist Joe King.

By EMILY C. DAVIS

THE wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah went up in flames because of dust explosions.

This, at least, is the theory of a German chemist, Dr. Paul Beyersdorfer, of Reichenbach. He traces the destruction of Pompeii also to explosive dust flying in the air after the eruption of Vesuvius.

If he is right, those were the most terrific dust explosions in world history, with their thousands of dead and their smoking ruins.

There is news of dust explosions, however, more important to the average American. And that is the striking reduction in the present cost of dust explosions.

Dust that destroyed Pompeii and Sodom has given up attacking cities, it would seem. The destroyer Dust flies abroad in the role of a factory wrecker. The coming of the factory age gave dust this new opportunity to destroy, and it worked along for some decades without much interference from human beings.

The destroyer Dust attacks so suddenly that people can hardly tell afterward what happened.

IN a grain elevator—a sudden flash and roar, burning grain, cries and destruction. In a coal mine, again that sudden explosion and the usual starting of a fire. In a factory, the same story with flying glass added as an extra touch.

Puzzled executives at first set down the cause to spontaneous combustion from heat—something quite different from a dust explosion. Nobody credited the idea that grain dust or other dust alone could explode.

Then engineers began to investigate the mysterious explosions that took place where no explosive gases were present. The destroying methods of dust were revealed, and the fight against them began.

The news of that battle today is that in 10 years the cost of the average dust explosion has been reduced by half a million dollars.

In 1921 when a factory went up in flames from exploding dust, the company could expect the loss to come to $520,000 if the explosion was just average size. It took that much to replace twisted machinery, buckled girders, damaged concrete walls, the shattered glass, and the factory's stock of damaged goods. No one tried to figure the cost in human life and injury.

ACCORDING to the past year's recorded totals, the cost of an average dust explosion is now cut to just $28,000.

If the price of articles you buy isn't noticeably lower because of that saving, at least insurance rates reflect the lessened risks, and millions of factory workers can feel safer in their daily jobs.

If explosions had continued on the scale prevalent in 1921, the loss of property last year would have been more than $20,000,000. As it was, the loss was figured at $1,100,700.

This was the cost of the 39 dust explosions known to have occurred in industrial plants last year, according to Dr. David J. Price.

Dr. Price is generalissimo of the government's war on dust. His official title on the glass door of his office in the Department of Agriculture reads "Chief Engineer, Dust Explosion Investigations." Behind that door sits an alert, wiry man who holds as keen an enthusiasm for his life work as anyone you've ever met.

The phrase "dry as dust" would puzzle Dr. Price. Dust explosions are drama—exciting, often tragic drama. And trying with all your might to protect workers in mines and mills and factories against those disasters is a crusader's job, as full of adventure as any of the old medieval crusades.

THE longer Dr. Price and his assistants work with dust, the more kinds they find to be explosive.

Once prominent men in industries argued that other plants might be in danger from such explosions, but not their own. Their line was a safe one. They didn't need to worry.

Flour millers would tell Dr. Price that they knew all about the danger in grain elevators. But they never heard of a flour mill exploding. And grain elevator men would say that flour mills exploded, of course, but elevators were safe because of the quantity of field dirt in the dust.

Today Dr. Price makes the general statement that every industry probably has an explosive dust. And the industries pretty generally agree with him.

The curious fact is that a pile of dust will not burn, even if a lighted match is touched to it. This, Dr. Price explains, is because the close packed grains cannot burn without oxygen.

If the same heap of dust is stirred up with a fan, so that it floats in a cloud, each single grain has a supply of oxygen around it. Then, if a match is touched to the cloud, the fire travels so rapidly through the cloud that pressure is developed and an explosion follows.

THE starting of such an explosion in a factory may be a spark from a machine belt, or an overheated bearing, or some other happening that would not seem especially dangerous. But in a plant where the air is thick with dust blown up from the products that are being manufactured, the tiny spark is like a fuse to gunpowder.

One explosion occurred in a candy factory where girls were coating marshmallows with powdered sugar. The air was temporarily filled with the sugar dust, and a worker off duty unfortunately chose that time to light a cigarette. The place was instantly wrecked.

tions each industry should take against exploding dust.

The chief defense is to provide a plant with adequate vents. If an explosion occurs in such a plant, the presence of expanding gases will push open the vents and the gases will escape more or less harmlessly, without forcing out walls or windows.

BESIDES venting, the government urges good housekeeping in factories, so that dust will not collect on ledges and floors, where it may be blown up into a cloud by drafts or whirling machinery. Grounding of machinery is another precaution.

When safety experts met in Washington a few weeks ago, Dr. Price and his engineer associates, Hylton R. Brown and Richard L. Hanson, staged a program of a dozen dust explosions at a miniature factory.

The factory, constructed for the government's dust experiments, is at Arlington Farm, Virginia. It consists of a little room four by five feet across, a corridor leading from it 20 feet long, and a tower at the end of the corridor 12 feet high and three feet square.

The "factory" is provided with a large number of vents, so that the engineers can see what happens in explosions when vents in different parts of the building are used—or not used.

THE most impressive explosion on the program was one in which starch dust ignited in the little factory room, traveled 20 feet along the well-ventilated corridor to the tower and there blew out windows and sent flames blazing out into the air.

This exact kind of an explosion, jumping from one part of a factory to a distant part, occurred in a starch plant in Pekin, Illinois. Forty-two persons were killed, and the damage came to almost a million dollars.

This disaster started in a small fire from an overheated bearing. The damage from that fire would have been negligible, had not someone dumped the contents of a starch wagon into a bin. The cloud of starch dust which rose from the bin was ignited and there was an explosion.

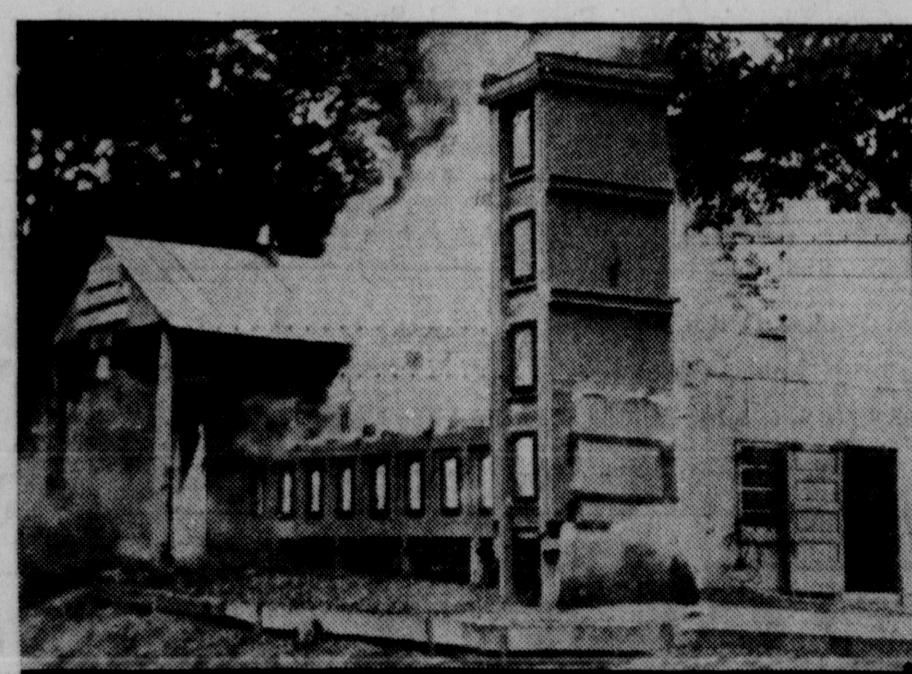

The destroyer Dust is still keeping some of its secrets. This is evident, Dr. Price points out, because now and again a well-managed, up-to-date factory is the scene of an explosion, in spite of all the precautions taken.

IT is because of the unsolved mystery cases that happen, that the German chemist Beyersdorfer evolved his theory, the theory that accounts for Sodom and Gomorrah. He believes that some of the unexplained dust explosions may be traced to electro-static charging of the dust.

It is known, Beyersdorfer says, that the outbreak of volcanoes may lead to storms in which the erupted dust and ashes serve as carriers of electricity.

It appears from the history of the eruption of Vesuvius that lightning occurred in the clouds, after which the clouds fell to earth as a rain of ashes—an ash cloudburst. In this dust electric storm, Pompeii was buried, according to the German theory.

As for Sodom and Gomorrah, they were destroyed in a rain of burning oil, Dr. Beyersdorfer deduces. On that fatal day, somewhere in the Caucasus Mountains there was an oil well eruption and an oil cloud was produced. The cloud of oil particles—oil "dust"—became ignited by electric charge. There was a flash of lightning and the ignited oil fell in a burning rain on the ill-fated cities.

A harmless, made-to-order dust explosion in the government's miniature factory. . . . In this test starch dust was ignited in the little room under the shed and the fire jumped 20 feet along the corridor and blew up in the tower.

GRIMM'S JOB WITH CUBS IN BALANCE

Stars, Home For 3 Games, Oppose Fullerton

Clipping from The Register's Sports, March 20:

"Out of the gray ashes of Huntington Beach's cinderpath, a new Southern California prep track champion has been created. Mark well the winner—El Centro is the ordained one."

"El Centro should win the Southern California title by May 15. Gillett will win the 4th place in the 100. Kirkpatrick can win both hurdles . . . Madmen may take the broad jump, and El Centro's relay team ought to pick up a point or two. The valley squad is coached by Bob Armstrong who will earn himself some attention with those boys."

"Now we ask you, did we give you the winner, or did we give you the winner?"

Fullerton's Floyd Vaughan was batting only .257 for Pittsburgh at the time of the last averages, but he's climbing fast. The other day he got four for four . . . Don Johnson is hitting about .285 at Seattle . . . After pitching magnificently for a month, George Blasholder took two bumphins in succession, one from the Yanks, one from Boston . . . Injured at training camp, Catcher Willard Hershberger has not yet broken into an international league game with Newark. You'll remember him as a one-time Fullerton schoolboy.

High school finances have Orange county coaches wondering. Lacking funds, more than one school district proposes to let out those without tenure (three contracts).

Santa Ana Hi's able track and field coach, Charley Webber, already has lost his job, and the situation is so critical at Fullerton that Coach Don Cruckshank may go. John Ward of Garden Grove and Dick Glover of Anaheim are two-year men without tenure but are said to be safe because their districts have money.

Coaches who can breathe easy because they have tenure, and therefore cannot be let out without cause, include Santa Ana's Oliver, Cook, Foote and Patton; Orange's Stewart, White, Brea's "Shorty" Smith, Tustin's Bill Cole, Capistrano's Stan Gould, Huntington Beach's Harry Shue.

Cal Eaton, Santa Ana's new wrestling promoter, was in town today, doing a little missionary work. He interviewed officials, smoothed the way for his opening show June 6.

Eaton, a former El Centro law student, will operate at the Municipal Bowl, and hopes to attract customers at what he maintains are "scandalously low prices," considering the type of talent he'll show. Admission rates will range from 25 cents to $1.

"Corn" Johnson, L. A. Hi's amazing high-jumper, already has received offers of scholarships from 15 colleges in the United States. He is the prize catch of the prep fishing season . . . Muir Tech's George Anderson wants to enroll at Stanford when he graduates from high school next February at 17. He was state champion in the 220 at 15, probably will be "burned out" before he ever gets to a college campus . . . And Myrtle Gillett of El Centro, who was doing 50-flat quarter-miles as a high school sophomore, is no cinch to be a champion either, although he certainly has the rhythm of running that is born to champions.

I did think Santa Ana and Fullerton would be better off without interscholastic athletics until their present "generations" graduated. But, because they're contemplating the elimination of athletics at Fullerton for lack of finances, they should bury the hatchet and arrange their annual football game. There would be a minimum of expense, the outlay for transportation being negligible, and the receipts might be enough to keep Fullerton in other sports. Surely, student bodies would behave put strictly on their honor.

Significant experiments are being made in Santa Ana Hi's spring practice. Captain Ford Underwood, all-Coast league guard last fall, has been playing fullback and Walt Hendrie, an end, has been getting a trial at left half. These maneuvers may not mean anything—but they indicate that the wise men of Walnut street, Messrs. Oliver and Foote, are worrying about their backfield from which will be missing such young men as Kidder, Montgomery, Conrad, Tucker, Preininger, Mitchell and Hamilton.

JACOBS WOULD BET $25,000 ON MOXIE

LAKE SWANNANOA, N. J., May 19.—(INS)—Joe Jacobs, manager of Max Schmeling, today offered to bet $25,000 at even money that the former heavyweight champion will defeat Max Baer, California adonis, in their 15-round bout at Yankee stadium, New York, June 8.

HERB SALVESON BRINGS STRONG TEAM TO BOWL

Hoping to get even with the board at last, Santa Ana's Stars return to the Municipal Bowl tonight to play Fullerton in the first of three successive home games. Torrance and Anaheim follow Fullerton here.

Santa Ana can sport a .500 percentage by turning back the challenge of Herb Salveson's Hawks. The Stars started their National league season dismally, losing three straight to Anaheim, Westminster and Huntington Beach. They looked every inch a tailender in those games but suddenly the club found itself, and won from both Whittier and Olive, two dangerous contenders.

Fullerton represents a real threat, despite its humble station in the standings. One of the two teams to win this year from Anaheim's defending champions, Fullerton has rounded up a hustling mixture of youngsters and veterans.

The Hawk pitcher, Russ Coggan, is one of the fastest in the league, being second in sheer speed only to Torrance's Neva. Coggan's catcher is a young collegian, Bill Campbell. At first base is Otto Brandle, last term utility man for Anaheim. Clem Sultenfuss, long distance mithmet from Glendale, plays second. Larry Hennus was obtained from Olive to handle third base and Phil Schrotz quit the champion Anaheim outfit to operate the shortstop zone. In the outfield are Wayne Nelson, Jean Arroues, a patriarch lured from retirement by Fullerton's return to nocturnal entertainment, and Wendell Pickens, a junior college boy.

Fullerton is back in night ball after a year's bye. The team has teamed with the Southern California Trojans for top supremacy in the intercollegiate track and field world.

Tustin is a new ball park that is said to rival anything in the wheel, and a host of new fans who have caught Manager Salveson's spirit. Salveson, incidentally, is a former Santa Ana leader.

Santa Ana is to stand pat with its lineup which came from behind to take Whittier, and knock off Olive's Rudy Heman off the ridge last Tuesday. Cornelius and Manager Wilcox will form the battery; Daley, Preble, Young and Hill in the infield, Denney, Ballard and Sears the outfield.

One of the best games of the week is listed for Anaheim's park where the twice-defeated champions "dig in" against Westminster. The league-leading Huntington Beach and Torrance teams also have home games, with Whittier and Olive, respectively.

Military Honor Awards To Be Presented 80 Veterans

EVENT TO BE SPONSORED BY DISABLED VETS

Official presentation of the Order of the Purple Heart to some 80 World war veterans residing in Orange county, will be an outstanding feature of an open public meeting of the Jack Fisher chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, to be held May 24 in the auditorium of the Frances E. Willard Junior High school.

The presentation of the decorations will be made by Volney P. Mooney, national judge advocate of the D. A. V. organization, and a national figure in veteran circles throughout the country, according to Virgil Marr, post adjutant. The decoration is given to soldiers who were wounded in action.

Another highlight of the program arranged for the meeting, which is set for 7:45 p. m., is the scheduled appearance of William E. Conley, national commander of the D. A. V., who will explain the adverse effects of the National Economy Bill, recently enacted by Congress, on state and local taxation, as well as on individuals who have been depending on compensation for support.

In this connection, instances will be cited where Orange county veterans having service connected disabilities, have had their allowances reduced far above the 15 per cent announced in an executive order, it is said.

MONEY— By Willis Thornton

But the U. S. still has some $3,500,000,000 in gold and intends to keep it. Thus it is in a better position than those countries forced off gold because they hadn't any. The problem becomes one of regulating or "managing" the dollar by legal changes rather than making everything adjust itself to the fixed unit of 25.8 grains of gold that has meant a dollar.

The new money law empowers the Federal Reserve Banks to buy and hold $3,000,000,000 in government bonds and issue new currency with those bonds back of it. That would be in addition to the nine billions in all kinds of money now in existence in the country.

CHAPTER 11—THE NEW MONEY LAW

It authorizes the president to issue $3,000,000,000 in U. S. notes, which are currency based directly on the treasury gold reserve; he could also reduce the gold content of the dollar as much as 50 per cent, which halves the value of the dollar in terms of gold, and permits issue of twice as many paper dollars against the same gold reserve.

Sketches by Art Krenz

It authorizes the president to set a ratio to gold at which the U. S. will coin silver into dollars at the mint, and to coin silver at that ratio. It also gives him power to accept $200,000,000 in silver from debtor countries on war debts, and issue paper money against that.

SPRING STAR
TO BE GUEST
AT CELEBRATION

Program arrangements for the fifth anniversary celebration of the Orange County Breakfast club, originally organized as the Santa Ana Breakfast club, to be held next Thursday morning at Campi's cafe, on the Anaheim-Santa Ana state highway, near the Valencia ballroom, were completed today, it was announced by Barney J. Koster, general program manager.

Breakfast will be served outdoors, and the entertainment, including music by "Brick" English's orchestra and various offerings by professional and amateur performers, will be in charge of Bruce Switzler, first president, assisted by the officers who served during the infancy of the organization.

The event has been designated as "ladies' day," it was added, and every "Ham and Egger" is expected to be accompanied by a member of the fair sex.

Miss Evelyn Furtach, of Tustin, a nationally known sprinter, who is expecting to compete in the contests to be staged at the Chicago exposition, will be among the special guests. Professor D. C. Cianfoni, director of the Santa Ana Municipal Band, will be on hand with the Washington medal awarded him by the U. S. Commission for services rendered in connection with the bicentennial anniversary celebration held this year.

SIGN ARCHITECT
FOR SCHOOL WORK

GARDEN GROVE, May 19.—Members of the Garden Grove Union High school board met in the high school this week to canvass the voter cast at the recent $20,000 bond election.

Mrs. Mary Ottie Fearnster, music instructor, will teach orchestra next term. This position was held by W. G. Axworthy this term. No salaries were set or contracts let to teachers but the fact that their contracts were not cancelled means they are eligible to teach next year, it was stated.

Fred H. Eley, of Santa Ana, was approved as architect to plan for remodeling the main building when the money is available. Eley was the architect on the gymnasium and science building. The work will not be started until the bonds are sold.

E. M. Dozier was recently re-elected president of the board and Mrs. J. A. Knapp clerk.

LEGIONNAIRES PLAN TRIP TO HEAR JOHNSON

Interest in Orange county veterans circles today was centered on the expected arrival of National Commander Louis Johnson of the American Legion, who is scheduled to address the veterans and ex-service men at an open meeting to be held at 8 o'clock Saturday night in the Municipal auditorium, Long Beach, under auspices of the American Legion.

Because of the importance attached to Commander Johnson's visit to the coast, having to do with recent legislation reducing veteran allowances and benefits, Orange county as well as all other Southland units of the Legion are expected to be well represented at the meeting at which the national commander will be the principal speaker.

Arthur C. Eklund, adjutant of the Santa Ana post, announced today more than 75 local Legionnaires are expected to attend the meeting. Other posts throughout the county are expected to be well represented, he added. Judge J. B. Tucker, commander of the Santa Ana post, accompanied by several post commanders, will head the delegation.

Pointing out that Mussolini does not believe in education and children in Italy are supported in school by the government for but four years and that the Premier does not believe people are able to govern themselves, the speaker contrasted conditions in Italy with those of America.

Speaking of conditions in Chicago, Scott said they would be a disgrace to black men in Africa, and are an indictment of the people and the governmental system.

"Outside of religion," he asserted, "the hope of the nation lies in education. Education means more than the erection of fine buildings. To make wholesome, useful and intelligent citizens depends on the curriculum and the type of teacher employed. Teaching is arduous work and teachers are not overpaid. Even their private lives are involved in their work, which is not true in other professions."

"I would like to have students study more of the principles of government and the history of their own country and its illustrious forefathers. Teachers should swear to support the Constitution. They must teach the child loyalty and devotion to their country."

"We must teach children respect for the law. When civil law fails

Bride-to-be of Midsummer

When Miss Josephine Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoffman, 442 South Flower street, becomes the bride of John Strain, formerly of Omaha, Neb., in June, he will recall no more pleasant memories than those of a courtesy extended her Wednesday evening, by the Misses Helen Westering and Hazel Johnson.

The affair was a five course dinner served in the banquet room of the Green Cat cafe, especially gay with its pink and white appointments. Dinner was served in a single table, centered with a miniature bride and groom, flanked with tall pink tapers, tied with pink tulip and lilies of the valley. Sprays of Celia Brunner roses, interspersed with baby breath and orange blossoms, trailed the length of the table, while individual corsages were fashioned from the same flowers. Candelabra bearing pink tapers lighted the room, while baskets of pink and white gladioli completed the floral arrangements. These were later presented to the bride-to-be.

The dinner opened with a toast to the bride-to-be, given by Miss Westering, while throughout the meal Mrs. C. Edward Scales (Sally Lee Scales) sang old time songs, accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong.

An inverted umbrella, decorated in pink and white, and from whose points hung pink and white balloons, provided much amusement for inside each balloon was a slip of paper instructing the wearer to provide some form of entertainment. An elaborated game of musical chairs was enjoyed with first prize going to Miss Florence Forcey, and consolation to Miss Beatrice Wood. In one of the several amusing games the winner was the recipient of a large clothesbasket, ornate in pink and white, and containing a multitude of lovely linens from the assembled guests.

Those present in addition to Miss Hoffman and the hostesses, Miss Westering and Miss Johnson, were Mrs. William Hoffman, mother of the bride-to-be, and friends George Vaughn, Stuart Cotton, W. W. Stratton, Josephine Fletcher, C. Edward Scales, Donald Dearth, and the Misses Helen Drake, Alice Olive Forcey, Frances Forcey, Goldie Stich, Helenawdy, Ruth Armstrong, all of Santa Ana; Miss Rosette Satterfield, Whittier; Miss Beatrice Wood, Pasadena; Mrs. C. Late News From Fullerton And Vicinity

City Council Changes Beer Election Date To June 27

ARGUMENTS OF TWO SIDES TO GO ON BALLOT

FULLERTON, May 19.—Meeting in special session yesterday afternoon, city councilmen changed the date of the beer election from June 19, the date first fixed by the board, to June 27, the date of the state election.

Along with the change of date of election, letters containing the arguments for and against the passing of the ordinance for control of sales were opened and read by the city clerk, Fred Hezmalhalch.

These letters are provided for in the ordinance that is to be voted on. According to the reading of the ordinance, the letter of the proponents of the beer ordinance should have been filed with the ordinance on presentation. The technicality was waived, however, and the two arguments, pro and con, were accepted and both opened yesterday.

Those favoring the bill present the following arguments as to reasons why, and this statement, along with the statement of the opponents, will be on the ballot with the ordinance at election:

Argument for Ordinance

"The ordinance has two purposes: 1. Prevent the sale, etc., of intoxicating liquors.

2. Promote and regulate sale of legal beverages under proper restrictions.

"Sections 3, 4, 10 inclusive, and part of Section 1 relate to the first purpose and are the same as the present law. Other sections govern the second purpose.

"Passage of the ordinance will: 1. Make it actual rather than

"2. Strike a heavy blow at the bootlegger and reduce the consumption of intoxicating beverages of much higher alcoholic content.

"3. Remove the handicap now placed on our merchants by a situation which forces them to our people and our neighbors wishing to purchase legal beer to trade elsewhere.

"4. Remove the present hindrance to new business.

"5. Place Fullerton squarely behind the national program for overcoming the depression.

"6. Reduce the expense of law enforcement of this ordinance will:

"1. Make Fullerton a stronghold for the bootlegger who cannot long compete with legal beer.

"2. Continue the depression for merchants, reducing their volume of trade, reducing property values and increasing taxation.

"3. Bring new business enterprises from outside Fullerton.

"Sale of beer has been legalized in Anaheim, Brea, Placentia and Los Angeles, and will be within a few minutes outside of Fullerton.

"The Congress of the United States and the legislature of California have legalized the sale of 3.2 beverages.

"The president of the United States has approved such sale.

"In every California city where the question has been submitted to a vote, the people have given decisive majorities for such sale.

"1,890 Fullerton citizens have signed the petition containing the ordinance.

""Yes" for real temperance, business prosperity and common sense."

The argument is signed by Wm. B. Wade, chairman, Citizen's Committee.

The statement of the opposing side, made through the Citizens' Dry Committee, follows:

"Opponents' Argument

"We oppose the argument of this ordinance because it falsely contends that 3.2 beer is not intoxicating.

"In saloon days the alcoholic content of popular beers was: Babst Blue Ribbon 2.9; Tostetti 2.5; Schlitz 3.1; Anheuser-Busch 3.8; all of which have one-half less alcohol than the ordinance would allow.

"We know these beers are intoxicated.

"Ninety per cent of the volume and 55 per cent of the alcoholic content of all liquors drunk in saloon days was beer.

"This ordinance would turn our restaurants and cafes into saloons, places where liquor would be consumed.

"Beer and wines would be sold continuously, 24 hours, nights, Sundays, to men, women and minors over 18 years of age without restrictions.

"In no way do we prohibit sales to women and minors and restricted sales to week days between five a. m. and eleven p. m.

"It provides no limit to the number of licenses that may be issued.

"Licenses are barred to dance halls, pool halls, theaters, lunch wagons and fruit stands, but places advertising may serve liquors and serve beer and wines.

"We oppose this ordinance because the sale of beers and wines of this alcoholic content is unconstitutional as the court of Greeley, Colorado, has recently declared.

"We oppose this ordinance because it provides automatically for the sale of beers and wines and all liquors of high alcoholic content if and when the state and national governments so allow.

"This ordinance would make Fullerton an all-night brewing industry to degrade and debauch its citizenry. Every dollar spent for beer is taken from the grocer, the clothier and other legitimate necessities that provide the necessities of life.

"Change this ordinance. Voters can enact its enactment. Strike now! Keep Fullerton dry and clean. Vote NO."

E. W. Moore is chairman of the Citizens' Dry Committee of Fullerton.

BUDGET TAKEN UP WHEN BOARD MEETS MAY 23

FULLERTON, May 19.—An announcement of the means by which the budget of the Fullerton Union High school district may be prepared from $419,000 to $350,000 will be taken up at the school board meeting Tuesday, May 23, when the board of trustees meets in regular session at the administration office.

The cuts are to meet the anticipated lowered income of the school brought about through changes in allocation of state funds, and in lowered assessed valuation and in lowered tax rate for the year. The board of trustees in special session last Monday asked the administration to present a budget with $70,000 spared from it, considering last year figures, in keeping with the request of the tax finding committee of citizens of the district, co-ordinated through the chamber of commerce.

SAN CLEMENTE, May 19.—A

May day program was held at the San Clemente grammar school this week, with Elmer Hanson and Marian Strang reigning as king and queen. Their approach heralded by Trumpeter Leroy Wells, the orchestra broke into a procession, and the pair, robed in royal purple, entered through a human archway and took their places in the midst of spring flowers and greenery.

They were attended by Joyce Donovan and Helen Abel as train-bearers; by Helen LeGaker and Mary Gleason as ladies in waiting to the queen; and by Robert Comber and Robert Adair as attendants to the king. Little Carol Jean Hayward and James Arthur Bennett followed with the golden crowns. As flower maid, Elouise Ferguson bestowed upon the queen a fan of flowers and upon the king a wand.

A program of songs and dances followed, with announcements by George Ferguson and interludes played by the orchestra.

Read this very enthusiastic letter:

"Something like eleven or twelve years ago, I began eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. When I started, it was called simply Kellogg's Bran, and I believe it was one of the first products of the kind on the market.

"My friends often laugh at my fondness for ALL-BRAN. It gives such a clean taste in the mouth, and I do not feel satisfied until I have had my ALL-BRAN.

"If the Kellogg Company should ever stop manufacturing ALL-BRAN, here is one who would be greatly disappointed."—Miss Amy Person, University Park, Iowa.

Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. Also iron for the blood.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Measure crushed berries and sugar into large kettle, mix, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in Certo. Then stir and skim for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Cover hot jam with film of hot paraffin; when jam is cold, cover with 1-8 inch of hot paraffin. Roll glass to spread paraffin on sides. For a soft, very slow set use 1/2 cup less sugar. Requires about 2 quarts berries. Makes 9 to 10 eight-ounce glasses.

Ripe Fig Jam
4 cups (2 lbs.) crushed figs and lemon juice
6 cups (3 1/2 lbs.) sugar
1/2 cup Certo

Use only fully ripened fruit. Remove stem ends from figs and crush thoroughly. Add juice of 2 lemons. Measure fruit into large kettle. Add sugar, mix, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in Certo. Skim; pour quickly. Cover hot jam with film of hot paraffin when jam is cold, cover with 1-8 inch of hot paraffin. Roll glass to spread paraffin on sides. Requires about 2 pounds figs. Makes 11 to 12 eight-ounce glasses.

All measurements are level.

Luncheon

Toasted tomato and lettuce Sandwich with Heart of lettuce and Mineral oil mayonnaise
Pot of clear tea, no sugar
Calories total, 25.

This is a busy woman's best bet when she wants a quick and delicious luncheon; that goes for the rest of the family, only don't give them mineral oil mayonnaise—use oil mayonnaise for all but the diet luncheon.

Whole wheat bread makes this sandwich best: cut in thin slices and toast it, spread the hot toast with mayonnaise, put in a lettuce leaf, then slices of tomato, mayonnaise, more lettuce, and the top slice of toast. Press together and cut diagonally.

The extra lettuce and mayonnaise is not only good for you

but it has a very quieting effect on hungry stomachs.

Has This Happened to You?
A reader of this column has written to ask me what if anything can be done to a blanket which has shrunk up at one end,
due to improper laundering?

Nothing—at home, for one hasn't facilities to return the blanket to its original size. A dry cleaning establishment can repair the damage fairly successfully and at reasonable cost.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Crab and Mushrooms in Pastry Cases
3 tablespoons butter, melted
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup chicken stock
1-2 cup thin cream
1-2 cups crab meat
1-2 pound diced mushroom caps
Butter for sauteing mushrooms

1-2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
3 tablespoons (cooking) Sherry wine

1-2 teaspoon salt and pepper
1-4 teaspoon paprika

8 pastry cases

Of course, this crab dish is only for "feast" days and high occasions."
Wouldn't it be rather clever for a summer luncheon with fresh green peas or new asparagus, small rolls, frozen strawberries and coffee?

• • •

I suppose the originator of this recipe had fresh mushrooms in mind, but when not obtainable use 2 small cans of mushroom caps, freshened in hot water, then cut
and sauteed in butter.

Blend butter and flour, add the chicken broth and thin cream and still until the sauce thickens. Season the sauce, then put in the crab and mushrooms. Cover and keep warm in double boiler. Ten minutes before the crab is served add the Sherry and Parmesan cheese.

Fill the pastry cases and pour
some of the sauce around it.

• • •
Of course you know that chicken broth can be bought in cans. Parmesan cheese already grated, in 10-cent packages, and cooking Sherry
at any good delicatessen shop.

• • •
Each filled pastry case and its share of sauce has an energy calory value of close to 525.

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

BY VERA RAMSEY

The relations between the United States and the Far East is one of growing importance. Our Western coast of 200 miles faces the Eastern littoral of Asia. There is daily communication with all parts of the Orient by cable and wireless, and it increases each year. More and more the United States is asserting a national interest in the political affairs of the Far East. The success of our policy in the East must depend in large measure upon our relations with Japan. Henry W. Taft in his book "Japan and America" writes with the purpose of establishing better understanding between the two countries.

The Japanese are the only Oriental people that have been able to create a progressive, self-governing state. Only through them can progress be made in establishing in the Orient the stabilizing institutions of Western civilization.

India and other British possessions in the East, the Dutch Islands, the Philippines, China, Manchuria, Mongolia, and Siberia, with their vast aggregate population are relatively subject nations. The art of government has made little progress among them, and their people are in a backward state of development in our modern conditions of civilization. Even considering China with her great possibilities, the fact remains that Japan is the only nation in the East that can effectively cooperate with Western nations. Many of Japan's present policies are extremely puzzling to the other nations of the world. However, a study of the development of Japan as a world power will help us to understand some of these.

At any rate our foreign policy in relation to Oriental matters and the development of our export and import trade with China and Japan, must to a great extent depend upon our maintaining not only friendly relations with the government of Japan but also our cultivating among the peoples of that country a cordial cooperation.

The history of the United States between 1912 and 1920 is one of many under the surface events. According to George Sylvester Viereck a very important event of that period was the mysterious alliance between Woodrow Wilson and his alter ego, Colonel House. In "The Strangest Friendship in History," Viereck tells the history of that alliance in all its ramifications, from the point of view of one who knew both men, who has had complete access to the unpublished letters of Woodrow Wilson to Colonel House, who has had his theories and facts confirmed by distinguished contemporaries of Wilson.

Who was the woman who was virtually President of the United States? Did Wilson pledge us to war before he was re-elected? What is the inside story of the crisis in which, with his country on the verge of war with Great Britain, Wilson called the "British boos"? What is the secret history of the Covenant? Who was the real author of the Fourteen Points, the source of the Federal Reserve Act, the cause of Wilson's reversal on the Panama Tolls making his own party eat its platform pledges? And who was the real cause of the break between Wilson and House?

All the answers and more come to light in this amazing record of a fantastic friendship. We read Clemenceau who was the first to note that Woodrow Wilson promulgated fourteen commandments while God himself was satisfied with ten. The real attitude of Wilson toward Pershing is stated here. The strife between the President's friend and his wife and its final outcome are fully explained on these pages. First of all it is, however, an intimate and unsparring story of this friendship. Its inception, its continuation, and its rupture make a drama more thrilling than history. Its implications make history.

The study of classic letters is customarily focussed almost exclusively upon Greek and Roman and perhaps Hebrew literature. How rich the fields that lie beyond, few realize.

In "The Dawn of Literature" by Carl Holliday, we tread many unfamiliar paths—but all the more alluring because of both strangeness and beauty. There were rich treasures of song and story when Greece was but a barbaric waste and Rome lay centuries ahead. A thousand years before the Greeks and Romans had composed their "Iliad" and their "Aeneid," the Babylonians, the Hindus, the Chinese, and the Hebrews had written lofty poetry, enchanting fiction, and profound philosophy.

The humanness of these writings of four or five thousand years ago may come as a surprise to the Western reader. Here are the same emotions, the same thoughts, the same struggles with the problems of life and death as we of today experience. Here are the same efforts to capture and explain the meaning of human existence. The reading of these authors of a civilization ancient before Athens or Rome was founded compels us to realize how little, if at all, human nature changes throughout the ages.

Not all of the writings here noted, however, belong to "The Dawn." In some lands of the Orient, such as India, Persia, and China there has been a continuing fruitage, and it has seemed best to include literature of a more recent date as well. While emphasis has been placed upon earliest sources, this book is really a survey of Oriental Literature from ancient to modern times.

GARDEN GROVE GROUP TOLD OF W.C.T.U. WORK

REPORTS GIVEN AS SOCIETY CONVENES

TUSTIN, May 19.—"Spanish Speaking People of America" was the theme of the Mrs. A. D. Turner Missionary society meeting Tuesday afternoon in the manse of the W.C.T.U. Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. B. Harper on West Acacia street.

Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess of Orange, W.C.T.U. director of scientific temperance instruction, was one of the principal speakers at the meeting of the W.C.T.U.

Mrs. Hess spoke on work of her department and urged the members to be careful of self prescriptions, stating that many patent medicines are harmful and injurious to the system. She said that Japan is not fighting with the sword in Manchuria but with drugs. She praised the state narcotic hospital at Spadra and its superintendent, Dr. Joyce.

Mrs. Minnie Neville, president of the Orange union and county director of social morality, discussed work of her department.

The county president, Mrs. Cora Hale of Fullerton, talked on holding membership of the W.C.T.U. and making the work personal against beer sales.

Announcement was made of the picture, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," to be shown at the high school auditorium, Tuesday, May 23, at 7:30 o'clock by Everett King, through the approval of the national and state W.C.T.U.

The hostess used lovely roses for decorations in her home and served dainty refreshments. The occasion marked the birthday anniversary of one of the members, Mrs. Lina Burns. She was presented with a birthday cake from the members present.

LEGION POST TO REMODEL QUARTERS

COSTA MESA, May 19.—The local American Legion post 455 met in their new headquarters in the 100 block on West Broadway this week. Commander John Wilcox was in charge.

Jess Ferr and Dr. Reeves, of Hollywood; Charles Leimer, adjutant of the Orange county council and Frank Cox, past commander of the Newport Beach post were visitors from outside posts.

put to work and 665 have been registered.

Mr. Reid also reported that 665 have been secured out of the 66 needed to secure the 88 pieces of property for the widening of North Los Angeles street. This makes it necessary to contact 180 people, he said.

A letter was read from realtors in Bangor, Maine stating that business conditions have picked up considerably and invitations were read from Santa Monica and Bakersfield inviting Anaheim residents to attend the rodeos that will be given tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday at the former and June 19 to 25 at the latter place.

In the evening the P. T. A. will hold a Father's night meeting at 8 o'clock at the school as part of the exhibit day events. Arthur Corey, assistant superintendent of schools in Orange county, will talk on "The School and the Home."

Betty Jane Ward will give a Spanish song and dance and a piano solo and the school octette will sing a group of songs. The latter is composed of Wilma Kerr, Ruth Armentrout, Milo Sweeney, Margaret Downey, Betty Ross, Helen Cram, Shirley Justice and Rilla Miner.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN GUESTS AT PICNIC

ANAHEIM, May 19.—Have you seen a novelty special or a trained animal? That is what H. Fenner McDowell, director of the Society Circus for May 26 at the Concordia club wants to know and if so he is desirous that communication be made with him at once by telephoning Anaheim 3631. The show is being sponsored by the Pleiades club.

While numerous acts have already been scheduled, and are under rehearsal for the welfare event, others are needed for the two hour show from three to ten minutes each. Dress rehearsal will be held the evening of May 25 for the cast of 150 who will participate.

With the popularity contest well under way at the Anaheim Union high school, three more names have been entered in competition for the finals that will be held at the Circus, Gilbert Franzen, manager said yesterday afternoon. The three new contestants are Ethel Mathis, Dorothy Suter and George Rue Fitzgerald. Other contestants are Betty Berger, Betty Fackner, Ruth Beach, Mildred Rogers, Phoebe Cooper and Mildred Lounion.

The contest will close on Thursday and the four highest will be in the finals the night of the Circus. The winner will be presented with a silver loving cup by Mayor Charles Mann.

THE UNITED STATES TO CONCEDE SOMETHING TO FRANCE

The report comes that Norman H. Davis, American Ambassador-at-large, is prepared to tell the Disarmament conference at Geneva that the United States is willing to enter a consultative pact against aggressor nations, providing all the world's powers take similar steps. There is nothing at all alarming in this departure of the United States from its traditional policy of theoretical isolation. There still remains the crucial point of determining what is aggressive warfare, before the United States would permit itself to be drawn into a conflict. Furthermore, a provision of the United States entering such a conflict would be that all the signatories to the pact acted unanimously against an aggressor.

The announcement is a challenge to the attitude of France, which has been the stumbling block of all disarmament conferences since the Versailles treaty. France is the arch-skeptical. She has found a logical reason for expounding her brand of skepticism, and it has appeared more and more clear that until her demands for "security" were satisfied, little progress toward European disarmament would be made.

The question remains how limited a promise of cooperation from the other nations will content her. She has demanded too much in the past. With the recent crisis in mind, with the nations united against her traditional attitude, it is still a question how much she will demand from the rest of the nations as a guarantee of security, before she will agree to join the other nations in the disarmament provided for by the Versailles treaty.

France's position since the nations committed themselves to the Versailles treaty, is not absolutely faultily taken. Terms were settled upon the vanquished, which would never cease to rankle among the people who were forced to bear the burdens of the settlement. France knows, from her own experience, the reaction to unjust or harsh terms. The French people kept alive the hate and bitterness which was by the conqueror. As it is, Germany has realized its ruin more keenly every day since the Versailles treaty was signed. The French people are good psychologists, but they are poor mental healers.

LEVIATHAN SCHEDULES CANCELLED

The junk heap looms ahead for the Leviathan. Those who have seen the proud, and historic ship, in all her glory are at once impressed. The Leviathan was once the Vaterland, the Zenith of Germany's pre-war oceanic grandeur. The United States confiscated the vessel during the war and, camouflaged, it served for the transportation of troops. After the war was over, the ship brought home the commander-in-chief, John J. Pershing. Another period of her usefulness was ended. She was towed to Hoboken where she was settling in the mud when the Shipping Board reconditioned her at a cost of $8,200,000.

From her initial operations in that new regime her status as a profitable enterprise was doubtful. In 1929 the U. S. line bought her. Again and again she has figured in news items and those reading behind the lines sensed that the ship was a burden. And her condition became worse. Germany began building ships again—trim, fast ships where size was not enough. Vessels in the construction of which speed was the first essential. Ships that passed the Leviathan at sea. For a time, before the Leviathan surrendered supremacy, she raced the Mauretania across the Atlantic again and again. But the new improved vessels finally conquered. Last week the Shipping Board gave permission to the U. S. Line to cancel the year's schedule for the Leviathan.

We have not seen the profit and loss columns of the Leviathan's books but we venture that the ship could ably serve as a monument to the period when size greatly impressed people, not only Americans. Probably some people felt more secure crossing the Atlantic on an immense vessel. But for most people size ceased to be impressive when the Titanic sank.

The Leviathan represents a period which has passed. One wonders whether sometime we will be as ready to place a tombstone over the "speediest" conveyance as we are to place it today over one of the largest vessels that has ever floated. It is almost inconceivable that such will ever be the case but maybe sometime we will begin to wonder where all our speed is getting us and then that "game" will be up, too.

A BATTLE OF BRAINS

Those who claim there should be less emphasis on athletics in colleges and universities, and more placed upon scholarship, will be cheered by the announcement that there is to be a novel competition between students of Harvard University and the United States Military Academy. And the battle will be waged in mathematics, with analytical geometry and calculus furnishing the test.

With the far-famed reputation of the cadets as students of mathematical science, we should say that the pupils of John Harvard may as well "give up" now. The excellence of instruction given and the interest in this subject by the pupils of West Point is widely known, and it will be with much interest that we will view the outcome of this battle.

What with our discussion the other day of the practical-minded and academic-minded students in colleges, and their success in life, we are keenly interested to know whether the students of a "technical" school are able to dislodge those of the liberal arts school upon a technical subject.

Of one thing we are quite certain, if either one of the teams wishes to have a "draw-back," they can call on us, for we doubt if we could be an able representative in simple arithmetic, let alone such "high-falutin'" sounding subjects as analytical geometry and calculus. They always sounded like "Greek" to us.

We notice the news dispatch closes with the note that the last time the two schools played each other, it was in football, and the Army scored a 46-0 victory over the Crimson. It is quite dangerous to predict the score of a football game, as even the experts seem to fall by the wayside, but we may venture on surer ground, we think, when we prophesy that the flag of victory will wave over the Palisades along the Hudson when it is hoisted in token of the winning of this mathematical match.

NATIONAL VS. AMERICAN LEAGUE

It has just been announced that all-star baseball teams representing the National league and the American league will play at the World's Fair in Chicago on July 6th. This should be a wonderful game, and settle many interesting discussions as the relative merits of the players in the two leagues.

The fans of the country are to select the teams by vote, and suffice it to say, the men who trot out on the diamond to do battle, will be representative players. We can imagine the sluggers of the National league, such as "Lefty" O'Doul, the Waners, "Chuck" Klein, and others are going to be happy at the prospect of facing the ace pitchers of the younger circuit, such as "Lefty" Grove and his fellow "chuckers." It will give an opportunity to the players on the less fortunate teams in the league to face members of teams of the other league, which they have not been able to do in World's Series games, though they do meet them in exhibition games, which are not so widely publicized or as important.

Sports writers have always indulged in picking all-star teams from the two leagues, and have cogitated as to how they would "stack up against" each other. Now they can see their dreams come true, and will pack away in their memories the exciting moments of this momentous combat.

The profits of the game will be turned over to the Association of Baseball Players of America, baseball's charity organization, so the "old men" of the game will benefit by this unique performance, which will furnish enjoyment to thousands of fans as well.

At Astoria in '92 Portland Oregon

Forty-one years ago today the city of Astoria was the open-hearted but somewhat troubled host to 10,000 out-of-town guests. The occasion was the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the official discovery of the Columbia River by Captain Robert Gray of Boston, and more people had flocked to Astoria from far and near than had been anticipated. Many had to sleep at night on the decks of the ships in the harbor, or wherever they could find a pallet around the city. But they didn't mind. It was a gay and resplendent time, with two United States cruisers booming salutes and speakers declaiming from the bunting-covered platforms.

Among the 10,000 visitors were 260 particularly distinguished guests who had arrived on the famous T. J. Potter from Portland. The T. J. Potter, indeed, carried most of the "official" party.

George H. Himes, of the Oregon Historical Society, who was among the official group, has within the past week gone over that old passenger list to determine how many of the persons making the trip are now living. He finds the survivors, as far as he can determine, to be the following:

Mrs. O. N. Denny, Mrs. M. C. George, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Himes, Mrs. M. C. Howard, Mrs. F. H. Raymond (now in San Francisco), Mrs. Curtis C. Strong, Mrs. D. P. Thompson, R. P. Boise Jr., of Salem, Edward Dekum of Honolulu, and Mrs. John Gill (daughter of Frank Dekum).

Only these few recall that brilliant journey down the Columbia on the night of May 9-10 in the old Potter. The T. J. Potter, at the time it was built in 1888, was the fastest sidewheeler that ever had appeared on the river. In fact, in the winters, when there was no traffic between Portland and the beach towns, it used to be taken to Puget Sound, and it returned from there with a gilt head and a broom on its pilot house, evidence that it had swept the sound clean, as well as the Columbia. The Potter's arrival at Astoria on May 10, with flags streaming in the wind and the United States cruisers standing by, was one of the great moments of the three-day celebration.

History Repeats Oakland Tribune

From the "Strange As It May Seem" page comes a brief history of Emperor Chin Shih Lung Ti, Chinese ruler of the third century, B. C. He was the one who decided he was the "Only First" or first emperor of the Chinese, and so swept away all the past of Chinese history. Said the emperor, "History starts with me." Politicians who were wise agreed, but there were five hundred students who dared to protest. For that, they were buried alive.

As for students, the Emperor said, "Men of letters, as a rule, are very ill acquainted with what concerns the government of a country." The story has it the men of letters got their revenge—for when history was written it was they who wrote it, and the Emperor, unable to defend himself before succeeding generations and without friends among writers, suffered greatly at their hands.

Now, after all these centuries, the story, and without many important changes, is being told again. Place Hitler's name in it for Chin Shih Lung Ti; witness the burning of books, the expulsion of scholars from university posts, the punishment of those who criticize, and the assumption that German history is beginning with the Nazi rule. Once more, it is likely, the men of letters will get their revenge.

Thoughts On Modern Life

A NOTE ON LAWYERS

The lawyer should be among the nation's most trusted guides in the days of profound social and economic change into which the nation is obviously passing.

Whether the lawyer takes his place among our trusted guides of social and economic change will largely depend upon the conception of the law that colors and controls his advice and his action.

Let me suggest the dynamic conception of the law that I think the lawyer must hold if he is to play a productive role in the days of readjustment that lie ahead.

It must be a conception of the law that will have due regard for the principle of fixity.

Unless there is the requisite element of certainty in the law, human enterprise cannot proceed with a decent sense of assurance.

It must be a conception of the law that will not put precedent above progress.

It must be a conception that will keep the lawyer on the side of development rather than on the side of formalism.

It must be a conception that will keep the lawyer sensitive to the changing temper and technology of the time.

Grounded in such a conception of the law, the lawyer should find unprecedented opportunity in the period immediately before us, a period that will cry aloud for leadership with a capacity for creative political and economic invention to the end that our political order may help instead of hamstring our progress out of chaos into stability.

It must be a conception that will not tear the law apart from the living social tissue of which it is part.
